Surviving Stress

Law Enforcement Training

Times Start Date 9/10/2015 End Date 9/10/2015 Start Time 8:00 Finish Time 17:00	Location Location Scott County Law Enforcement Center Address 301 S. Fuller St. City Shakopee 55379 County Scott State: MN
Cost $199/APCO members receive a $20 discount
Post Credits None

Training Description

The field of emergency communications is by its very nature, stressful. From the frantic call of a parent who just found their baby not breathing, to a motorist injured in an accident on a strange roadway, telecommunicators are the life link to thousands of people each day. These dedicated people must be the calm, reassuring voice that ensures that help is but that call away. All too often however, intense emotions and other damaging stress reactions are caused by visual images brought on by events never seen and the vicarious traumatization that comes with helping others. These stress reactions can, and often do, take a toll on even the most seasoned telecommunicator.

At the completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Define stress
- Recognize the causes and risk factors of stress
- Recognize the signs and symptoms of stress
- Recognize the professional cost of stress
- Understand how Telecommunicators are impacted by stress
- Better manage their own stress and that of those around them
- Properly define CISM
- Understand the principles of CISM
- Identify resources available to assist with managing stress

Training Description

Course Description:

This is a classroom based combat-confrontation avoidance course based upon the L.O.C.K.U.P. ® System. It teaches within a classroom setting how to recognize aggression and to not stimulate aggression. Students will learn evidence based Active Diffusion Strategies that can avoid or resolve interactions by employing tactical de-escalation techniques, con-flict resolution methods and distraction techniques that promote success-ful tactical applications. The course also discusses tactical responses when diffusion tactics are inappropriate or ineffective. This program teaches of-ficers how professional communication can reduce civilian complaints as well as civil litigation. Instruction uses lectures and demonstrations to fa-cilitate learning and retention.

Instructional Objectives:

- Understanding the principals of risk management for officer safety
- Identifying indications of hostility through body language
- Understand police "customer service" methods that yield positive rela-tions
- Identify professional benefits of active diffusion strategies
- Learn methods of effective verbal de-escalation strategies
- Understanding physiological changes during aggression
- Learn to use cognitive limitations for active diffusion
- Learn methods to re-direct the thought process through positive direc-tion
- Learn the importance of professional posturing
- Identity different communications styles with appropriate response tactics
- Learn methods of motivational interviewing skills
- Learn methods of distraction to obtain tactical advantages
- Learn communication and physical strategies to de-escalate situations
- Learn how to avoid communications that may be negative
- Learn how active strategies blend with a total law enforcement presentation.

Ethics & Integrity

Law Enforcement Training

Times	Location
Start Date 9/14/2015	Location Douglas County Sheriff's Office
End Date 9/15/2015
Start Time 8:00	Address 216 7th Ave. W
Finish Time 16:00	City Alexandria, 56308 State: MN
	County Douglas
Cost $240	Post Credits 14

Training Description

It is widely understood that law enforcement officials are subject to a different set of ethics than the general population. In law enforcement, officers frequently face many dynamic situations that often impact public trust in law enforcement. Unethical decisions made by law enforcement officials can very easily undermine that trust. This course addresses those challenges facing law enforcement and other public safety entities and is designed to build tools to help leaders address real life ethical conflicts, and how important ethics is at all levels of the organization.

Students will learn to:

How reports of unethical behavior by law enforcement can undermine the credibility of the agency as a whole.

- Realize the importance of the public's trust in law enforcement and the consequences that undermine that trust.
- Explain the different types of corruption.
- Understand and identify the concept of discretion.
- Explain the "code of silence" in law enforcement.
- Explain four primary ethical theories and Social Contract Theory
- Explain the difference between ethics and morals.
- Identify the conflict between intrinsic and non-intrinsic values.
- Apply ethical decision making to a specific situation.
- Learn the different models of leadership and the difference between management and leadership.
- Explain different management strategies.

NOTES

Course handouts will be available from your CJTE on-line account closer to the start date. A BCA issued thumb drive and writing portfolio will be issued at the first course an individual student attends. Students attending the management program should bring these materials to each course in the series.

AUDIENCE

Current licensed law enforcement or other civilian leaders in criminal justice field.

MindLeap: Critical Thinking Technical Assistance SeminarFirst Responder Training

Times Start Date 9/24/2015 End Date 9/25/2015 Start Time 8:00 Finish Time 17:00	Location Location Maple Gove Government Center Lower Level EOC Address 12800 Arbor Lakes Pkwy City Maple Grove County Hennepin State: MN
Cost Free	Post Credits TBD

Training Description

This seminar teaches government personnel, in both an analytic and an investigative capacity, how to think critically. The content is based on the integration of research across many disciplines, including, but not limited to, strategic studies; international security, social science, and strategic and tactical intelligence analysis.

The following topics, among many others, are covered during the seminar:

- How beliefs and preconceived explanations influence our observations and insights.
- Why stories trump statistics and the seduction of generalizations and simplifications.
- The human brain as an “associative engine” and our tendency to jump to conclusions and incorrect solutions.
- The limits of our observation and memory and why a mental picture is not worth a thousand words.
- The negative consequences of faulty reasoning, especially when the risks are high.
- Faults with traditional “brainstorming” and how to develop a productive brainstorming process

Benefits for Participants

A research-based model of effective reasoning and a toolkit of practical critical thinking strategies. Skills that have immediate and lifelong professional application.

Organizational benefits, including increased change agility, more effective strategy implementation and improvement initiatives, more efficient use of time and resources, and higher levels of employee engagement and innovation.

Training Description

Similar to 'First Aid' and CPR, 'Mental Health First Aid for Public Safety' teaches individuals how to help those experiencing mental health challenges or crises

Mental health challenges – such as depression, anxiety, psychosis and substance use – are shockingly common in the United States. In fact, more than one in five American adults will have a mental health problem in any given year.

The National Council for Behavioral Health certifies individuals throughout the nation, to provide Mental Health First Aid courses to prepare their communities with the knowledge and skills to help individuals who are developing a mental health problem or experiencing a mental health crisis. Identified on SAMHSA's National Registry of Evidence-Based Programs and Practices, the training helps the public better identify, understand and respond to signs of mental illnesses. Leading Beyond Compliance

Law Enforcement Training

Times Start Date 9/24/2015 End Date 9/25/2015 Start Time 8:00 Finish Time 16:00	Location Location BCA Building Address 1430 Maryland Av. East City St. Paul, 55106 County Ramsey State: MN
Cost $240	Post Credits 14

Training Description

Professionals use skills and knowledge in service to others. Law enforcement professionals, both sworn and civilian, are governed by laws, policies, and standards that ensure appropriate levels of customer service and prevent various abuses of authority. Our commitment to professional conduct shouldn't be limited to compliance with these baseline norms. Rather, we should deliberately and consistently act in ways that promote trust and which engage co-workers to provide excellent service. This two-day course will provide a clear perspective and practical techniques for law enforcement professionals, both civilian and licensed.

Learning objectives:

- Understand how great leaders empower others and work together to achieve results.
- Common barriers and challenges, and how to overcome them.
- Learn key communication skills including highly effective listening.
- Practice a means of persuasion that also strengthens relationships between co-workers.
- Use "Fair Process" principles to make decisions in ways that promote trust, even among those who don't "get their way."
- Use clear organizational values to make and explain decisions.

Participants will work together in small groups and as a class to adapt and apply these concepts and techniques to their own agencies and circumstances.

NOTES

- Course handouts will be available from your CJTE on-line account closer to the start date.
- A writing portfolio will be issued at the first course an individual student attends. Copies of instructor presentations are available through individual student accounts under Current Schedule for upcoming courses.

AUDIENCE

Training Description

Often the first supervisory level position a law enforcement professional holds is that of a Field Training Officer. Persons in this role motivate, train and effectively evaluate new recruits and have the greatest impact and influence as leaders in their organizations. They set the tone and define and set the stage for the culture in individual organizations. Successful FTO's know how to effectively teach and evaluate skills and if proven successful, are often looked at as candidates for future leaders in their agencies.

Key concepts discussed will be to:

- Identify the role of the FTO in an agency.
- Describe the ethical considerations for the FTO.
- Develop effective trainee evaluation skills.
- Understand the stress that exists within the FTO/Trainee process.
- Critique cases of FTO failure, and how to remedy such cases.
- Develop effective teaching methods for all learners the FTO may guide.
- Define proactive approaches to FTO/Trainee communication.
- Develop the FTO as a coach and mentor.
- Effective strategies to be a great FTO.

NOTES:

- Course handouts will be available from your CJTE on-line account closer to the start date. Instructions on how to access course materials are found here.

The learning goal of this course is to allow licensed peace officers within the confines of the State of Minnesota to gain awareness of the effects of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). This course also deals with the proper way to intervene into the life of a fellow police officer who might be suffering from PTSD. Learning Objectives: Upon completion of this course, peace officers that attend this course will gain a better knowledge of three things:

- What PTSD is.
- Recognize the signs of PTSD and the best approach to intervene.
- Recognize the difference between PTSD and exposure to trauma within a critical incident (defined as PTS.)

Peace officers that attend this class will have a better understanding of “Emotional Wellness” and its relationship to PTSD and PTS by:

- Sharing stories of individual trauma within class discussion;
- Recognizing PTS and PTSD symptoms in their own lives;
- Recognizing some personal warning signs of exposure to too much trauma;
- Defining “Emotional Wellness” for police officers and how it affects them personally; and
- Understanding the correlation of suicide within the police profession.

Peace officers will describe the various implications of PTSD under Minnesota Statute § 299A.411. Peace officers will discuss “Resiliency” and what it means to them. The instructor will discuss, through lecture and discussion, Officer Safety concerns that may occur with some officers that have been exposed to a high degree of trauma. Peace officers will gain a better understanding of the difficulties police officers face when dealing with police suicide and how it has affected the profession

This course will teach the basics of interviewing and interrogation including suspect interviews, witness/victim interviews, communication, rapport, verbal and non-verbal behavior, culture and gender, interviewing children, persuasion theories and strategies for interrogation designed for the investigator. Students are welcome to bring tapes/disks of interviews or interrogations for evaluation or sharing with the class. This truly practical course will provide you with the skills to gain high quality information from individuals, no matter what their status might be in the investigation.

Topics include:

- The verbal communication process
- Witness memory enhancement
- Flow of information
- Interviewing process
- Kinesics interview techniques
- Detecting deception
- Videotaping and recording interrogations
- Interview of witnesses and victims
- Criminal personality profiling for interviews
- The effective interrogator
- Legal aspects
- Psychology of interrogations

The first three topics will stress the methods you can employ to establish rapport, improve feedback and become more discerning through efficient listening. An examination of the interviewing process will give you a structured interview to expand your ability to obtain accurate information and detect deception.

Through criminal personality profiling, you will be able to more accurately determine the personality type you are confronting and some of the interviewing techniques best suited to elicit information from that individual.

This course focuses on skill development and will enhance your ability to conduct effective interviews and interrogations.

AUDIENCE

Patrol officers, newly assigned and seasoned detectives, investigations supervisors, crime scene technicians. Class is restricted to sworn law enforcement officers and those personnel assigned directly to law enforcement agencies.

Strategies for the Recorded Interview

Law Enforcement Training

Times Start Date 9/30/2015 End Date 9/30/2015 Start Time 8:00 Finish Time 17:00	Location Location Brooklyn Center West Fire Station Address 6250 Brooklyn Blvd City Brooklyn Center State: MN County Hennepin
Cost $150 member/$175 non member of ATOM
Post Credits 8

Training Description

Course Overview:

This course begins with a review of interview basics and introduces you to the RIP (Rapport, Investment, Partnership) Technique of interviewing. This course builds on your existing interview skills and can be adapted to fit your personal interview style.

As investigators, you work with only three kinds of evidence to solve crimes

1. Physical evidence – such as the assault weapon, a victim's injuries
2. Witness evidence – such as a neighbor saying "I saw the guy in the red jacket grab the little boy and shake him"
3. Statement evidence – the suspect's statement, such as "I did it because..."
- 4.

Evidence (particularly physical evidence) can be equally powerful whether it is consistent or inconsistent with the rest of the case. However, the most crucial of these three methods is statement evidence.

Training DescriptionDe-escalation Strategies for Minnesota Veterans in Crisis Training

Service members experience a unique set of circumstances upon reintegrating into society post deployment. Veterans can suffer physical and psychological after effects from traumatic experiences that can culminate in injury to themselves, their families and public safety/law enforcement personnel. This 8-hour training is designed to enhance the knowledge, skills, and capacity of Minnesota law enforcement officers and relevant public safety personnel to recognize the factors that impact the veteran's ability to reintegrate into their communities and provide verbal tactical tools to effectively defuse potentially life threatening situations. Relevant public safety personnel include: 911 dispatchers, emergency medical service responders, chaplains, jail personnel, and public safety supervisors and administrators. This training is interactive and based on adult learning principles. Upon completion of the course, participants will be able to demonstrate a set of specific skills and de-escalation strategies that can be used when responding to crisis calls.

Training Content

- Introduction and Background of military veterans
- Identify the stress-related issues
- Conditions of War
 - Understand veterans have unique challenges

Leadership In Police Organizations (LPO)

Law Enforcement Training

Times Start Date 10/5/2015 End Date 12/4/2015 Start Time 8:00 Finish Time 16:00	Location Location BCA Address 1430 Maryland Av. East City St. Paul 55106 County Ramsey State: MN
Cost $995	Post Credits 120

Training Description

This three week 'Leadership in Police Organizations' (LPO) training is a model based on leadership curriculum that originated at the USMA - 'West Point.' Through the efforts of Army officers who served in the USMA's Department of Behavioral Sciences and Leadership and experiences of police administrators, this civilian version of the course was created.

As the IACP describes:

The IACP leadership model is based on the tenets of dispersed leadership which reflects documented best practices in the public and private sectors, the military, and the justice system. It is rooted in community oriented policing theory and addresses leadership as an agency-wide concept, reaching all ranks and positions. In recognition of the diversity of police agencies and the communities they serve, the model is designed to be adaptable to an agency's individual mission and philosophy. Even though the model is flexible, it has at its foundation a set of core values that reflect the nature of our profession: duty, honor, service, dignity, respect for others, integrity, courage and loyalty.

This is a challenging training opportunity for public safety supervisors and managers that will change your ideas on what constitutes 'leadership.'

This is a three week program, tentative dates are as follows:

- October 5-9, 2015
- November 2-6, 2015
- November 30-December 4, 2015

Cost Free	Post Credits 4

Training Description

Definition:

A Threat Liaison Officer (TLO) is any peace officer, firefighter, emergency manager, EMS provider, federal agent, military investigative/intelligence personnel, or anyone in the public/private sector working closely with the public safety/homeland security community, who has been properly certified by the Minnesota Fusion Center.

Mission Statement:

The mission of a TLO is to serve as a conduit of all-hazard information between the MN Fusion Center and members of the public safety community, public/private sector, and federal agencies.

Certification Process:

A. The prospective TLO must: Obtain approval from his/her unit commander or designee to participate in the program.

B. Complete the appropriate Minnesota BCA Fusion Center, POST certified TLO course.

Primary Duties and Responsibilities:

1. "Share Information!" Coordinate all-crimes, all-threats and all-hazards information between their local agencies to the MN Fusion Center. The TLO is responsible for verifying that all agency personnel, with whom they share law enforcement sensitive information, have a valid need and right to know.
2. To help their agency's staffs identify and report legally obtained suspicious activity that may reveal a nexus to criminal activity and/or terrorism with the MN Fusion Center.
3. To be able to identify possible crime trends within their jurisdiction and seek help from the Minnesota Fusion Center to further examine those crime trends and work together on solutions.
4. Serve as the point-of-contact within their agencies for questions and information regarding terrorism/criminal information, terrorism/criminal-related suspicious activity reports, tips, leads and other all-hazard incidents.
5. The TLO position is a collateral duty. The TLO shall not independently investigate suspicious activity reports, tips or leads unless it is within their departmental duties to do so.
6. To maintain a working relationship with the Minnesota Fusion Center, to help facilitate the movement of terror/criminal related information to and from appropriate personnel..

Training Description

In today's complex work environments, supervisors must work to influence people in a positive way to achieve goals and objectives. In this 2-day session you will be provided with powerful tools that are sure to make you more influential, both personally and professionally. In today's complex work environments, you have to work with and influence people in a positive way to achieve goals and objectives. When influence is employed correctly, it efficiently moves people in positive directions. Those who wish to create and sustain influence at any level need to understand how the influence process works. Making a seemingly small change in how we work with others can produce surprisingly large results.

In this seminar you will learn:

- What is influence and where does it come from?
- Key components of effective communication and assess communication style preferences including verbal, non-verbal, listening, self-talk, and assumptive.
- To recognize our own and others' work style preference to quickly promote trust, engagement, effective professional relationships and influence and to understanding human behavior and motivation.
- Learn methods to increase the quality and efficiency of conversations regarding performance and development.
- Learn to quickly know the best leadership style to use which enhances influence and trust.

NOTES

- Course handouts will be available from your CJTE on-line account closer to the start date. Instructions on how to access course materials are found here.

A writing portfolio will be issued at the first course an individual student attends. Copies of instructor presentations are available through individual student accounts under Current Schedule for upcoming courses.

Training Description

Course Description:

Since 1955, the Southern Police Institute has provided law enforcement officers worldwide with quality homicide investigative training. SPI's HOMICIDE INVESTIGATION course provides participants with the knowledge, skills, and abilities required to conduct competent and complete homicide/death investigations.

Carefully selected case studies are used throughout the program to explore every aspect of homicide/death investigations, including autoerotic fatalities, and suicides. An expert in a specific field of specialization leads each program segment. Court certified, these experts provide the participant valuable exposure to years of field experience and a variety of investigative techniques. The course is an intensive eighty-hour program delivered over 10 days. Each participant is granted the opportunity to individually interact with the instructors and review cases, including their own cold cases and active investigations. Cases will be examined through discussion, questions, and answers as well as an evaluation of evidence by participants and instructors. The learning environment and assignments, including practical and scenario-based exercises, is highly interactive with frequent group discussions in order to draw on the experience and expertise of the participants themselves as well as from the experience the instructors bring to the classroom. At the completion of the program participants have the ability to differentiate between accidental, suicidal, and homicidal death.

Who Should Attend:

Enrollment is limited to law enforcement officers, (uniform or detective), investigators, supervisors, and other authorized officials who are responsible for investigating homicides (crime scene technicians, medical examiner/coroner investigators, military investigators, criminal analysts, or prosecutors).

Training DescriptionABOUT THE SEMINAR

Managing threatening situations and creating a safe school environment can present unique challenges. In order to meet these challenges, we must all stay current and well equipped. We invite you to participate in this seminar. This presentation will provide officers and education professionals with practical tools that will enhance their efforts to manage threatening situations in schools, and thus create safer school environments for our youth. With school safety in mind, we will also be providing an update on current gang trends in the metro area. Participants in this seminar will gain insight on the current structure, culture, activities, & driving forces behind the gangs operating in our area. With the ever growing use of social media, we will be presenting how you can stay current on gang related activities that may potentially pose a threat to people's safety in your school and at school sponsored events. We will also be discussing steps you can take to protect your personal information when using social media.

SPEAKER TOPICS

- Gangs 101
- Current Trends & Hybrid Gang Activity
- Gangs on Social Media
- Social Media Safety Tips
- Intervening to Prevent School Violence – How to identify when you have a problem
- Question & Answer

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This seminar is designed for all Law Enforcement, Probation/Parole, Corrections Staff, Prosecutors, School and Community Professionals, Psychologists, Social workers/Counselors, Behavioral Specialists, and Community Workers & Volunteers who are interested in suppressing, intervening in, and preventing violent gang activity and related crime.

ACCREDITATION

We have applied for approval of 8 P.O.S.T. Credits and 8 hours of CEUs Credits per day. All who attend will be given the appropriate accreditation information and a Certificate of Attendance at the end of the conference.

LOCATION

The conference will be held in the Main Auditorium of the Neighborhood House inside the Paul and Sheila Wellstone Center for Community Building, located at 179 Robie Street East, St. Paul, MN 55107. For location and maps go to; http://wellstonecenter.com/aboutUs_Location.htm.

Parking is complimentary in the Neighborhood House Parking Ramp, and plenty of on street parking is also available around the facility. Do not park in the El Burrito Mercado parking lot or your vehicle will be towed. Lunch will be "on your own". There are numerous restaurants in close proximity.

REGISTRATION FEES

The fee for the conference is $35.00 per person, which includes tuition, morning and afternoon refreshments, and a certificate of attendance. Registrations will be accepted on a first come, first served basis.

Training Description

ALICE (Alert, Lockdown, Inform, Counter, Evacuate) is a set of proactive, options-based strategies, that increase your chances of survival during a violent intruder or Active Shooter event. For 14 years, the ALICE Training Institute has provided violent intruder response training to individuals and organizations across the nation.

This 2-Day Instructor training course is designed to teach law enforcement as well as school, church, hospital and workplace administrators and employees skills and strategies that bridge the gap between the time a violent event begins and law enforcement arrives.

Background: You will become knowledgeable in statistics and information about active shooter situations and why ALICE training is effective.

ALICE Concepts: We will deliver a detailed overview of ALICE training and the liability of proactive vs. passive response strategies.

Physical Drills: You will experience live scenario drills that compare passive vs. active responses.

Effective Training: You will learn the strategies and be provided with materials to become an effective ALICE Instructor in your own organization.

Training Description

Teen Violence & Bully Expert Phil Chalmers

Phil Chalmers' live seminar "Why Teens Kill: Warning Signs, Causes, Triggers and Prevention" is classroom based and jammed with media, including hundreds of crime scene photos, original videos, suspect interrogations, and information known only to the killer and law enforcement. This seminar is fast-paced and covers over 50 juvenile homicide cases, including school shootings, family killings, thrill killings, mall shootings, cult killings, gang shootings, and media-inspired murders.

This course will teach attendees the top ten reasons why teens kill, the six types of teen killers, the warning signs that were missed, the triggers that cause kids to finally make the move, and ways we can keep our communities and schools safe. THIS CLASS IS A MUST FOR EVERY PARENT, JUVENILE OFFICER, SCHOOL ADMINISTRATOR, YOUTH COUNSELOR, POLICE OFFICER, AND ANYONE WHO COMES IN CONTACT WITH JUVENILES, WHICH, QUITE FRANKLY, IS ALL OF US! Phil will also take attendees back in time with the history of teen murder and school violence, and will take attendees into the minds of teen killers, and into their culture, showing attendees what kinds of music, movies, and video games kids today absorb.

Lock Picking & Specialized Entry Techniques

Law Enforcement Training

Cost $395	Post Credits 16

Training Description

COURSE DESCRIPTION: Patrol officers, investigators, probation and parole officers, narcotic officers, and tactical teams are often faced with the task of entering a building to serve search and arrest warrants, to carry out hostage rescues, or to conduct welfare checks on elderly persons or the reported victims of violence. Military special operations personnel have to resort to stealth entries to secrete themselves in hostile environments, to conduct sensitive building entries, and to place forward observers and precision shooters. Conservation officers are often required to access areas protected by padlocked gates. This course will introduce students to basic lock picking skills, as well as a variety of other options for lock bypassing beyond the conventional forced entry. Students will have an opportunity to develop new skills by picking more than 150 different training locks. In addition, important intelligence gathering and preplanning issues will be discussed that facilitate a mission conclusion.

Each student will receive a syllabus which highlights the information presented during the training, their own lock pick set, and a list of suggested specialty tools. All equipment needed during the course will be provided.

Training Description

To register go to <http://www.regonline.com/atom2015>

Note to students: You can bring team equipment on last day including command vehicle. We will discuss more on the first day.

Since advance training is all customized, please contact instructor, Jonathan Bundt, 952-922-0422, and let him know of any specific topic you would like to see covered over the three days.

This course is designed to enhance the skills of newly trained and seasoned negotiators. An interactive and scenario based training will look at reviewing key elements and skills of the negotiator and the negotiating team. At the same time, advance techniques will be taught with a focus on integration of current practices. This course is designed to provide students with individual feedback that can enhance performance.

Course Prerequisite – Basic course in crisis and hostage negotiations is required.

Training Objectives (All training objectives are subject to change.)

Review of active listening skills and practice
 Advance communication skills
 Leading issues in today's crisis negotiations
 Personality types and motivation of a suspect
 Suicide intervention
 Advance negotiation team dynamics
 Enhance information flow
 Advance bargaining models
 Overview of the Tactical Operations and integration
 Cultural considerations during hostage negotiations
 What happens when you need to break the rules?
 Role-playing specific to above objectives

Training Method

Training will use lecture, discussion, videos tapes, incident review, and role playing with class members and professional actors. Some of the videos to be used are of recent interviews with actual negotiations and interviews of offenders that are incarcerated for their hostage taking situations. Class size will be kept to a minimum size to enhance the trainee experience. Preferred number: 15 to 18 participants.

Instructor Bio Jonathan has worked in the behavioral science and law enforcement field for close to 30 years with specializing in disaster and crisis response. In the mid-80s he moved to Israel where he served in the Israeli Defense Forces and then was a Chief Inspector with the Israeli National Police-Border Patrol Division where he was initially part of the elite anti-terrorism hostage rescue unit called Yamam. He then became a trainer in the national anti-terrorism school and finally worked in the behavioral science unit. He returned to the US for graduate studies in psychology and organization development/training. Jonathan runs his own consulting company that specializes in dealing with disaster and crisis planning, exercise and response. Some of his work includes working as a consultant to the Minneapolis Police-SWAT as a trainer and on-scene support advisor where he specializes in training crisis/hostage negotiators and critical incident response. He has been involved in responding to over 2000 local, regional, and national incidents. Much of his work has been involved in all elements of dealing with workplace violence from prevention strategies, threat assessments, response and recovery. He regularly provides consultation and training services to the private sector, hospitals, EMS, police and fire departments, state departments of Corrections, Public Health, Human Services, Public Safety, and Emergency Management. He is a certified emergency manager in the state of MN and involved as the coordinator of a new model of responding to called 3Echo: Hostile Event Response that is hosted through the Metropolitan Emergency Service Board.

Training Description

Over the last several years, Minnesota has undergone a dramatic shift in how it addresses sex trafficking and exploitation. The new Safe Harbor system being built throughout the state provides victims with services and support while holding accountable the buyers and traffickers who exploit them.

The 2015 Statewide Safe Harbor Conference for Investigators, Prosecutors, & Child Protection Attorneys is intended for law enforcement officers who may investigate these crimes, as well as the county, tribal, and U.S. attorneys who may prosecute offenders or protect juvenile victims.

Sessions for investigators will build on the 2014 Statewide Sex Trafficking Conference for Investigators, offering practical skills in the areas of interviewing, forensics, open-source technology, and others. Sessions for prosecutors and child protection attorneys will provide these audiences with the skills they need to identify and respond to sex trafficking and exploitation in their communities. Finally, joint sessions will highlight multi-disciplinary and regional approaches.

Optional Evening Reception

There will be an optional evening reception on October 20th from 7:00-9:00pm.

AUDIENCE

Active Law Enforcement and County, Tribal, and U.S. Attorneys.

CREDITS

This conference is worth 12 POST credits. CLE credits will be applied for.

REGISTRATION

Registration and most expenses will be free, though attendees must pay for their own lodging. The conference is sponsored by the Ramsey County Attorney's Office, with co-sponsorship by the BCA and the Minnesota County Attorneys Association.

Professional Development

The Ladder of Leadership Success

Presented by:

Ted Schick

Schick Corporate Learning

In this interactive learning session, we will discuss essential leadership skills that are useful for officers of all rank in your department.

We will begin by exploring base concepts that are essential to self leadership: re-lationships, professional distance, favoritism, emotional intelligence, and charac-ter. Then we will work our way up the leadership ladder, examining: professional-ism, leadership theory, communication, leading high performing teams, motivation, approachability, accountability, vision and strategy.

While many of our officers have a good handle on the technical skills of emergen-cy response, this session will focus on the “soft skills” of leadership that are more elusive, but critical in leading and motivating people to work together.

Residing in Duluth, Ted is a corporate trainer, professional speaker and consultant with his own business, Schick Corporate Learning. A retired naval officer who rose up from the enlisted ranks, Ted has over 30 years of experience leading people.
